

Do not tamper with telephone privacy regulations. The President purpots to support family values. Well, nothing is more supportive of family values than an evening at home without commercial telephone interruptions hawking credit cards, telephone services etc.